

If you are this, CoCubes.com is the company for you to build a career

If you are this, CoCubes.com is not the company for you

If you want to make a dent in the world. We are changing the face of hiring in India, we are a team which is working towards ensuring the every kid in any corner of the country can get an equal opportunity to build a career.

If you don't really care what the company you work for is doing, whether it contributes to building something real which is making a change in the lives of people or not. If what really matters to you is the starting compensation, a big office with a coffee machine.

If you get excited about building a world class product. If you want to be part of a small extremely smart team with IIT'ians working on building the platform that will change the way students make career choices.

If you are the kind of person who will join another 500 guys in building something for a customer in US. Who you will probably end up speaking to on phone.

If you are looking for growth and responsibility. Think of the guys who joined LinkedIn, MakeMyTrip, Naukri.com in their initial forming years.

If you want to know exactly what your responsibilities are and follow that according a given set of rules. If the company you want to join should be able to lay out a 10 year career growth path for you with fixed increments and growth.

If the people around you matter to you. 80 passionate people (average age 27)
CoCubes.com was started 4 years ago by IIT Alumni. We hire smart and passionate people. People who have a fire in them to do something with their lives.

If you need managers who are 35-40 years old and want to be in long meetings. If you think the definition of a 'smart' person is one with lot of experience.
